Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) Policy

Updated January 2019

Policy Statement

The school RTO Stretton State College is committed to providing all students with a fair and accessibly process for Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL). The process acknowledges the skills, knowledge, performance outcomes and learning achieved prior to study with Stretton State College RTO #31852.

Through the collection and submission of a portfolio of evidence and discussion with Stretton State College trainers and assessors, students may apply to have their existing knowledge and skills assessment against the units of competency contained in a program offered. The units of competency are listed in the Student Curriculum Handbook.

To complete an application for RPL please complete the Application for Credit Transfer and RPL form and submit with your portfolio of evidence to the RTO Manager Vanessa Garvie. Evidence may include:

- Statement of Attainment
- Academic Transcripts
- Certificate of Completion
- Evidence of complete skills and knowledge
